Wouldn't have read everything if it wasn't recommended (about page)  (This was before we changed the Home page)Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson  (Would never look for a pockast from a browser  Didn't know the parent 'You' Tube was for parent tips  People don't read blogs often  Thought "Things we love" was for other blogs and resources by other parents  When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first  Started free version through the "Start shining for fee" CTA  Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted a nery out of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a nep new button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the poff first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he rusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vineo)  Would like an pap, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Would like any browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more something that says the video is secure (powered by vineo)  Would like any browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Would like any browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more soticeable  Would like any browser product is harder for a kid to use subscripti	Observations	P1	P2	P3	P4
Why Sprouts section - too wordy  You'Tube videos on parent tools is the most important  Drawn to the Shop first  Wouldn't have read everyfring if it wasn't recommended (about page)  (This was before we changed the Home page) Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson  Would never look for a podcast from a browser  Dight know the parent You'Tube was for parent tips  People don't read blogo often  Thought' Things we love' was for other blogs and resources by other parents  Thought Things we love' was for other blogs and resources by other parents  When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first  Started free version through the "start shining for free" CTA  Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted an link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted an ink from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted an export of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamilication would be cool. like a leaderoand of all itsis  Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find fracebook live archives  Dibrit notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Salid they would watch the video with their kild  Mentioned downloading the poff first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would lef his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but ringlift like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would lef his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but ringlift like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Sugpe	(This was before we changed the Home page) - All descriptions too long, repetitive
YouTube videos on parent looks is the most important  Drawn to the Shop first  (This was before we changed the Home page)Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson  Wouldn't have read everything if it wasn't recommended (about page)  (This was before we changed the Home page)Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson  Would never look for a podeast from a browser  Didn't know the parent YouTube was for parent tips  People don't read blogs often  Thought "Things we love" was for other blogs and resources by other parents  When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first  Started free version through the "Start shrining for fere" CTA  Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted are foot of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamficiation would be cool, like a leader-board of all kids  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamficiation would be cool, like a leader-board of all kids  Wanted as neasy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the first button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the poff first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust his but might lite to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like to see po-pu-pa de  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching liked concept stands of the most subscription  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jaming user experience if someone lan't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching Mat units scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Nevel at way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Wanted at way to assign leasons to child  Wanted to	Could use a more human feel to build trust
Drawn to the Shop first Wouldn't have read everything if it wasn't recommended (about page) (This was before we changed the Home page)Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson Would never look for a potcast from a browser	Why Sprouts section - too wordy
Wouldn't have read everything if it wasn't recommended (about page)  (This was before we changed the Home page)Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson  (Would never look for a podcast from a browser  Didn't know the parent You Tube was for parent tips  People don't read blogs often  Thought "Things we love" was for other blogs and resources by other parents  When asked to stign up and pay for the program went to Shop first  Started free version through the "Start shining for fee" CTA  Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted anne detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc)  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would what the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Cetting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept slands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parks were teaching kids will scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the mai	YouTube videos on parent tools is the most important
(This was before we changed the Home page)Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson  Would never look for a podcast from a browser  Didn't know the parent You'Tube was for parent tips  People don't read blogs often  Thought "Things we love" was for other blogs and resources by other parents  When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first  Started free version through the "start shinning for free" CTA  Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted an report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook like archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Sald they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downbading the poff first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app. browser product is harder for a kid to use  Softpure reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids leaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, if's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids unit sorted down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Wanted a way to salony leach to the filer button on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Drawn to the Shop first
Would never look for a podcast from a browser  Dicht know the parent You Tube was for parent tips  People don't read blogs often  Thought "Things we love" was for other blogs and resources by other parents  When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first  Started free version through the "start shining for free" CTA  Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted a nike from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a nepor now button that could be a cossessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Dicht notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more notleable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (i would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It is sounded like pearnts were teaching kids untils credited down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to b	Wouldn't have read everything if it wasn't recommended (about page)
Didn't know the parent YouTube was for parent tips People don't read blogs often Thought Things we love' was for other blogs and resources by other parents When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first Started free version through the "start shining for free" CTA Whated all ink from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard Wanted more detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc) Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills Said they would watch the video with their kid Mentioned downloading the pdf first Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo) Would like on app, browser product is harder for a kid to use Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable Wouldn'th want to see pop-up ads Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to autoplay the video (it would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Wanted a way to assign lessons to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos Wouldn'th wan to see the main thing is a subscription Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos of the main thing is a subscription Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos the m	(This was before we changed the Home page)Not enough info on Home page about what's in a lesson
People don't read blogs often Thought 'Things we love' was for other blogs and resources by other parents  Men asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first Started free version through the "start shining for free" CTA Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard Wanted an link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills Said they would watch the video with their kid Mentioned downloading the pdf first Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo) Would like to app, browser product is harder for a kid to use Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable Would will want to see pop-up ads Cetting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription Wanted a way to assign lessons to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos to child want to so be able to access the parent dashboard Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos to child wanted to know what	Would never look for a podcast from a browser
Thought "Things we love" was for other blogs and resources by other parents  When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first  Starled free version through the "Start shining for free" CTA  Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted more detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc)  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook like archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like no see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, if sa jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos to the individual of the most  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Didn't know the parent YouTube was for parent tips
When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first Started free version through the "start shining for free" CTA  Wanted all nik from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard  Wanted more detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc)  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity if he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, I's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Wanted a keay for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Hought they would ent their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	People don't read blogs often
Started free version through the "start shining for free" CTA Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard Wanted more detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc)  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills Said they would watch the video with their kid Mentioned downloading the pid first Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo) Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to activately the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Shop could be changed to Subscription the mainthing is a subscription Wanted a way to assign lessons to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Thought "Things we love" was for other blogs and resources by other parents
Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard Wanted more detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc)  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills Said they would watch the video with their kid Mentioned downloading the pdf first Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo) Would like no app, browser product is harder for a kid to use Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Wanted a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough) Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	When asked to sign up and pay for the program went to Shop first
Wanted more detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc)  Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned  Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app. browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It is usunded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Started free version through the "start shining for free" CTA
Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills Said they would watch the video with their kid Mentioned downloading the pelf first Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let this kid work atone Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo) Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription Wanted a way to assign lessons to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough) Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Wanted a link from the thank you for subscribing email to go to the dashboard
Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids  Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Wanted more detail about kids progress on the parent dashboard (what they watched, learned, passed etc)
Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources  Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Wanted a report of some sort when click on videos watched and badges earned
Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives  Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Gamification would be cool, like a leaderboard of all kids
Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills  Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldh't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Wanted a help me now button that could be accessed from anywhere - lead to solution videos or resources
Said they would watch the video with their kid  Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription Wanted a way to assign lessons to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough) Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Would like an easy way to find facebook live archives
Mentioned downloading the pdf first  Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Didn't notice the filter button on the dashboard to filter by life skills
Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity  If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone  Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Said they would watch the video with their kid
If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription Wanted a way to assign lessons to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough) Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Mentioned downloading the pdf first
Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)  Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Would like to see the supplies right away on the screen so he would know if he has the right supplies and can do the activity
Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use  Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	If he trusted the site he would let his kid work alone
Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable  Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads  Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Thinks he can trust this but might like to see something that says the video is secure (powered by vimeo)
Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily) Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing) It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids" Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription Wanted a way to assign lessons to child Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough) Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Would like an app, browser product is harder for a kid to use
Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)  Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Scripture reference in About should be more noticeable
Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most  Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Wouldn't want to see pop-up ads
Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)  It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Getting people to read your website is tough (don't follow bullets easily)
It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"  Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Kids teaching kids concept stands out the most
Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard  Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Suggested to autoplay the video (I would not, it's a jarring user experience if someone isn't expecting a video to start playing)
Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription  Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	It sounded like parents were teaching kids until scrolled down and saw "kids teaching kids"
Wanted a way to assign lessons to child  Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Need a way for kids not to be able to access the parent dashboard
Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos  Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Shop could be changed to Subscribe since the main thing is a subscription
Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)  Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter
Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter	Wanted to know what came next for lessons/videos
	Thought they would let their kids do the program on their own (if old enough)
Question button on parent dashboard not as important as everything else	Understood how to find values and life skills through the filter
	Question button on parent dashboard not as important as everything else

First thought it was a collaborative parenting site, moms sharing resources
Parent tools - collective resource sharing
A better description of the subscriptions in the shop page
Was hoping the About page might have more information about the program not the people running the program
Wants to see the badges when you sign in to the parent dashboard
Wants to see the badges when you sign in to the child dashboard
Thinks the blog is for other parents to give advice and submit through an approval process
Start Paid subscription - go through the start shining for free CTA
Start Free subscription - the graphic that talks about both subscriptions
To submit a coaching question - went to parent tools first
Tried to sign-in to dashboard under Parent Tools first
What's the difference between star chart and badges
Is afraid kids would submit a question through the video screen (submit question button)
Didn't understand that they could scroll down on the home page
The sooner they would have seen the video sample on Home page, the easier it would be to figure out what's going on
If all the videos were free they wouldn't buy the subscription
Is this sustainable - making videos all the time, or can other kids submit videos?
To register for the premium membership went to Sign In - register now Under Parent Tools - would like a way to search/sort the resources to find exactly what topic they're looking for
The pdf is nice to have as an overview, might look at it prior to the video
Would like a simple description of the video on the platform	